

Garden vs. Desert

A person is like a garden when charity and faith in the Lord are linked in him. But if these are not linked, a person resembles a desert (see Last Judgment 39:13). It takes time for us to grow into beautiful gardens, but this should be our goal.

Directions:

Divide a sheet of paper in half and make a picture of a lush garden on one part and a desert on the other.

Optional:

Using post-it notes, write some attitudes that would make a person like a garden and some that would make a person like a desert. Then give them to a friend or family member and see if they can put them in the right places.