

Peace Is Like...

Ideas for Dramatization

Dramatize one of the examples of natural peace given in True Christian Religion 304.

Storm and then calm:

- Let one child show how the wind is blowing.
- Let another bang pot lids together for thunder.
- Another could wave a piece of aluminum foil to simulate lightening.
- Agree on a signal that will let everyone know that the storm is over.
- After a storm, what is it like outside? Wet? Clean? Peaceful?

Winter and then spring:

- Let one child be a tree, bending under the weight of snow on its branches,
- Let another be a plant covered by a blanket of snow (with a blanket as a prop).
- Then have spring follow winter.
- Let everyone pretend to be a plant, growing and blossoming in the warmth of the sun.

People on a ship during a storm.

- Let the children pretend to be having trouble standing up, because the boat is being tossed around by the waves. Hold onto something so you don't fall off the ship!
- When the ship reaches safe harbor, the people are very glad to walk on the land!
