

I Spy with My Little Eye

Find something in plain sight that the Lord created and let others guess what it is. It is traditional to say, “I spy with my little eye something that starts with the letter ____.” A variation is to say “I spy something _____” and supply a color.

Those guessing the object can only ask questions that can be answered with a “yes” or a “no.” The person who guesses correctly gets a turn to “spy” something.

To make the game a little easier, try restricting it to the animal, plant or mineral kingdom at first.
