

I Was Born to...

Instructions:

- Cut out the squares below and give one to each person (or use paper circles or stars.)
- Introduce the activity, saying something like: “Think about what you enjoy doing or think what you would like to do when you are an adult and finish this sentence: ‘I was born to.....’ Remember that you can choose something you do now such as play soccer, write stories, or help care for your younger brothers and sisters. Or you may write what you want to do when you are an adult.”
- Note: It can be fun to display the answers and then try to guess who wrote each one.
