

Marriage Mobile

Each of us is touched by a whole series of marriages, going back to our parents and grandparents and working down to our own marriage and that of our children. Picture this with a marriage mobile of a string of hearts made of red paper.

Instructions:

1. Make several hearts out of red paper or cardstock.
2. Using ribbon, string the hearts together in a column, with a bow or other decoration at the top to hang the column on the wall. On the top heart write the names of your grandfather and grandmother.
3. On the next one write the names of your mother and father.
4. Then each one below can have the name of one member of your family.

Variations:

If you know more of your ancestors, put more of them above your grandparents.

Note: This could also be done with a friend's family to highlight the idea that each of us has contact with a string or series of marriages.