

PICTURE A MARRIED COUPLE IN HEAVEN

If a husband and wife truly love each other (and are spiritually compatible), then their marriage will continue in heaven. To illustrate this idea, have children picture someone they know who has died and is now in heaven.

- If this person was unmarried, picture him or her with a marriage partner provided by the Lord—for He provides partners for all who desire true marriage love.
- If both partners are in the spiritual world, show them together, young and happy!
- If one partner is in the spiritual world and one is still living here on earth, show them together to show that the marriage continues despite the temporary separation of the partners.

One option is to overlay the part of the picture with the partner in the spiritual world with tracing paper to suggest that love connects those who love each other even when death appears to separate them.

ANOTHER OPTION—FRAME A PHOTOGRAPH

- Find photographs of grandparents when they were young. Use a photograph of them together or combine two separate photographs. Photocopy or scan the photographs so that children can use the pictures for this project.
- The idea is to help children picture grandparents together in heaven in this more youthful state.
- Mount the pictures on heavy paper (poster board or card stock) or use stiff paper to make a picture frame for them. Make a special border, perhaps using glitter or sequins to suggest the beauty of life in heaven.
