

Role Models for Potential Angels

Our choices determine our eternal home, and also influence the children around us. When children observe the adults around them making good choices—apparently choosing a heavenly path—this affects them.

What you would like to teach the children and young people around you? Write a prayer about your hopes for the children in your life.