

The Ten Plagues

Based on Exodus 7-12

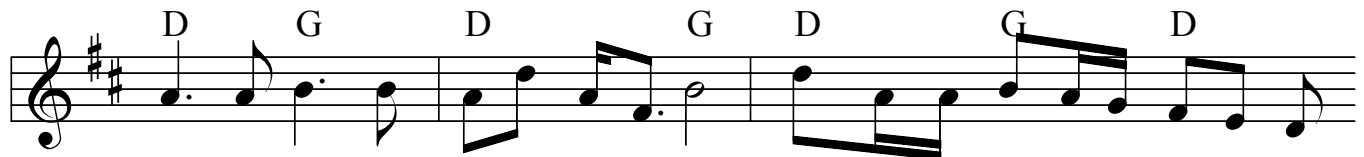

Lori Odhner

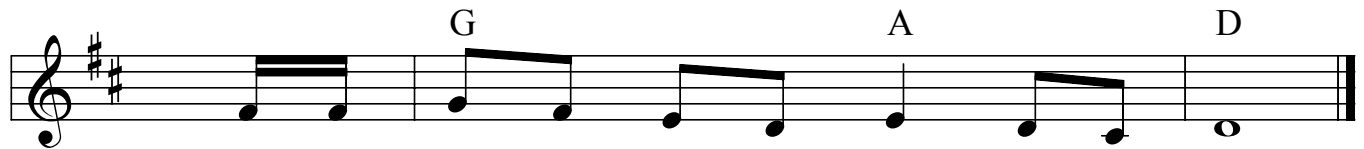

1. First all the ri - vers were turned to blood— on the E - gyp-tian shores.
 2. Soon there were lice crawl-ing ev-'ry - where,— fill - ing land and skies.
 3. Soon all the cat - tle and an - i - mals— sick-ened with mur - rain.
 4. Soon all the crops were— beat-en down— by the hail and fire.
 5. Soon a great dark - ness— filled the sky,— in fear the peo-ple cried.

Then there were frogs leap - ing all a - round, till they cried out for no more.
 Then there ap-peared in a swarm - ing cloud the— black and bit - ing flies.
 Then there were boi - ls and pes - ti - lence, bring - ing suf - fer - ing and pain.
 Then all the mass - es of lo - custs came to the Phar-aoh's great em-pire.
 Then came the last plague of E - gypt, and— all the first-born died.

Mo - ses said, "Please let My peo-ple go! We've been in slav - er - y far to long!"

(last time) But the Pha - raoh an - swered, "No, no, no, no!"
 And the Pha - raoh an - swered, "Yes, you may go!"
