

A Unique Friendship Bracelet

Marriage is a three-way covenant between the Lord and a husband and wife.

Make a braided friendship bracelet using gold embroidery thread to represent the Lord, red embroidery thread for the wife, and white embroidery thread for the husband.

Materials:

gold, red, and white embroidery thread
safety pin
scissors and ruler

Directions:

Measure and cut one 24 inch piece of each color of thread. Fold in half and tie a knot at the folded end, creating a loop of thread above the knot (fig. 1).

Use the safety pin to secure the loop of thread to something that will hold it still, such as the knee of your pant leg.

Now separate the thread by color – you should have 3 strands, 1 double strand of each color (fig. 1).

Begin with the thread on the left. Cross it over the thread in the middle. Now cross the thread on the right over the thread in the middle. Continue this pattern, keeping the threads tight against each other (fig. 2).

When you reach the end of the thread, finish the bracelet by tying the threads together into a knot.
